

I love summer evenings
When air is warm and cool, and
Water is cool to the touch
A gentle breeze
Sifting over gentle skin
And the long snowy winter
Makes it all the sweeter

It's so beautiful
And when I try to recapture
That feeling
It evaporates
So I let it go
And appreciate each new moment
As a new beginning
